

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Digitisation of Cultural Heritage and long term preservation - the role of e-Infrastructures

Budapest Conference 23-24 June 2011

Iván RÓNAI

NEFMI – Ministry of National Resources, Hungary

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Hungary

EU Presidency January-June 2011

Venue: National Széchényi Library

founded in 1802

by Count Ferenc Széchényi

who donated his books collection to the nation

NEFMI

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Holdings: more than 7 million units of which

- more than 2 million books,
- 330 000 volumes of serial publications (newspapers and periodicals),
- 176 000 printed musics,
- near to 1 million units of manuscripts
- maps - 200 000,
- pictures and engravings - 310 000,
- sound records - 24 000
- plus 3 million posters and small prints

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Building and conference room

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Message to eInfrastructure:

eInfrastructures can play a role in technology intensive tasks and services of heritage institutions

Technology and infrastructure needs of cultural heritage with special emphasis on long term preservation

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Draft programme

Start at noon 23 June 2011 – Registration and lunch

First part

- Welcome speeches
- keynote speaker 1 on Technology and Infrastructure Needs of Cultural Heritage
- keynote speaker 2 on The Broad Approach to eInfrastructure

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Draft programme continued

Second part

- Two presentations on the issue of long term preservation of cultural heritage. One on the risks and the other on a possible solution, the SPAR projects
- Information on DC-Net achievements – Work Packages leaders' reports and participant countries experiences

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage

Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Day 2

Morning session

Case studies of how certain memory institutions can meet their eInfrastructures needs offered by the National Research and Education Network – Hungarnet (NIIFI)

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Members served by NIIFI:

Over 150 public collections (libraries, museums, archives)

More than 50 other cultural institutions

Services offered:

Basic services	Additional and Multimedia	Middleware and supercomputing
•ADSL, Dialup service	•Videoconference	•Key server
•E-mail, FTP	•Voip	•Eduroam, CSIRT
•IP address allocation •Name registration	•Video archive - video on demand	•LDAP directory service
•News	•Database services	•Grid
•User homepage	•Mailing list	•Storage
•Webhosting	•Server hosting	•Supercomputer

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

After the coffee break:

Legal Aspects of long term preservation

Afternoon session

Public Cloud Computing - complementary resource to existing IT resources

Panel discussion: Framework of a MoU between Memory Institutions and e-infrastructures

Participants: Library, museum experts, archivists and computer specialists

e-Infrastructures for Cultural Heritage
Brussels Conference 29th October 2010

Midsummer Night of museums

Thank you for your attention

Iván RÓNAI

NEFMI – Ministry of National Resources, Hungary

